3. Spotlight

The California Department of Technology (CDT) and the Karuk Tribe have entered into a historic partnership to install and maintain approximately 46 miles of the Middle-Mile Broadband Network (MMBN) in Humboldt County and tribal lands. CDT also entered into a joint-build partnership with the Gateway Cities Council of Governments this month for approximately 73 miles of network in southeast Los Angeles County. These partnerships will pave the way for reliable and affordable high-speed internet access to rural, tribal, and urban communities.

Federal Funding Account in the Field

What Grantees Are Saying:

"Western Siskiyou County is one of the most remote regions in California, encompassing agricultural, tribal and multi-generational populations. This grant will ensure many California residents in our rural region will have access to one of today's most critical infrastructure, fiber broadband... Finally, this grant will also benefit from the California State Middle Mile Broadband Initiative Project as the MMBI will significantly reduce the last mile costs for this project by building through this project area."

- Russell Elliott, Chief Executive Officer, Siskiyou Telephone Company
